American Colonist: Anne Hutchinson

Written by: Carmen Sandino, 4A

Do you know someone who cares a lot about their religion? I do, and her name was Anne Hutchinson. Anne Hutchinson was born in 1635. She was a midwife, for women who needed her help having babies. What she enjoyed to do was to pray on her house instead of going to church. She was an American Colonist who was focused and generous.

Anne Hutchinson was focused and generous for many reasons. One reason she was focused was because she really cared about her religion. For instance she prayed and read the bible the majority of the day. Anne Hutchinson was also generous because she worked as a midwife. For example when women were getting ready to have their babies, she helped them prepare everything and relaxed them.

Anne Hutchinson was an American Settler who acted passionate and was kind. Anne Hutchinson lived for 52 years. She died on August 20, 1643. Anne Hutchinson will always be remembered for being persistent because she always tried to tell people to believe in their religions. If I had a chance to go back in time and meet Anne Hutchinson I would ask her whether she chose to be a midwife or if she was forced to be a midwife?

What would you ask her?
